Protecting Senior Citizens We have all seen an elderly person deliberately do something that they know they shouldn't, like starting to cross the street even though the light will soon change, or going up a ladder to fix something or eating or drinking something their doctor warned them against. Haven't they earned the right to be less than prudent? Or should we protect them in some way?		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● to be overprotective ● to be up to sb ● to prove st (to sb) ● to flirt with danger
Structures to use: 1) (semi-) modals of permission & advice – should, have to, can't, be supposed to, had better 2) Optional: you choose another structure		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● st is at stake ● in the long run
